

MAP GALLERY
National Geography Week, November 13 – 19
National GIS Day, Wednesday, November 16
Capitol/Capitol Annex Tunnel

In celebration of National GIS Day, The Division of Geographic Information (DGI) will be sponsoring the sixth Map Gallery during National Geography Week. Our prior map galleries were very successful and we covered the tunnel wall with our displays.

We will be displaying maps and posters in the tunnel between the Capitol and Capitol Annex to display the many productive uses of GIS technology by talented people in Kentucky. We are asking your agency (federal, state, county, and local government agencies, and schools/universities) to participate in this endeavor by sending us samples of your maps. Only maps/posters pertaining to Kentucky will be displayed. We will organize the maps and posters by theme before displaying them on the tunnel wall.

Maps and posters can be brought or sent to the Division of Geographic Information, 1025 Capital Center, Frankfort, KY 40601. Maps and posters can be submitted to DGI until COB Wednesday, November 9. On Thursday, November 10, we are planning on putting the maps and posters on the tunnel wall. Your agency can submit multiple maps/posters. Maps/posters should not exceed 48" by 72". Please do not mount any maps/posters on foam board.

If you would like your maps/posters back after the event, you may pick them up at DGI after November 21. Maps not picked up by Friday, December 9, will be discarded.

If you would like more information concerning the Map Gallery, or if you have any questions, please contact:

Demetrio Zourarakis (502) 573-1450 X 3452 (Demetrio.zourarakis@ky.gov)

If you are planning on submitting maps/posters, please email this information to Demetrio – this helps in the coordination effort.

We look forward to receiving your maps and posters!
